FOX BROS. IN NEW HOUSE

Their Poultry Plant and Creamery A Model Of Convenience.

The Fox Bros. Co., moved into their new plant at First and Railroad streets a few days ago and are now better fitted up for business than before the fire last summer. Their new cold storage room has a capacity of 130,000 cubic feet and will hold at one time 60 carloads of butter worth $240,000 or 48 cars of fowls worth $125,000.

Everything is new and arranged with every convenience. The wired coops outside the building are 60 feet square and will hold more than 2,000 fowls at one time. The big slaughtering room has a concrete floor and no detail has been overlooked to facilitate the killing and packing of poultry.

The season is now opening and the company is paying 8 cents for hens and 11 cents for turkeys. This is somewhat cheaper for turkeys than the prices were last season, but one cause is that the storage houses of New York, Boston and Chicago carried over from last December 3,000, 000 pounds of poultry which must be sold in the next 30 days. This cold storage stock is to be thrown on the Thanksgiving market to compete with the fresh stock. Another factor is that the dry summer was very favorable to raising poultry and the 1914 crop is larger than for several years.

Will and Frank Fox are again in charge of the offices, which are located on the east side of the building. Early shipments of fowls are coming in, but the killing has not yet been commenced.

LINE UNMOVED AS ARMIES BATTLE ON

Claims of Foes in Both Eastern and Western Fields Are Widely at Variance and Real Result of Conflicts Are Unknown.

BRITISH REJOICE OVER END OF EMDEN.

Germans Continue Violent Attacks on Allies Near Ypres, But Have Been Unable to Break Through to Coast.

London, Nov. 11.—Widely different claims of contending armies in the eastern and western theaters of war, especially concerning the West Flanders situation, have left but one big undisputed fact on land or sea. That was the destruction of the German raider Emden and the trapping of the German cruiser Koenigsburg, the latter in a palm-lined East African river under circumstances which read as though they were taken from Stevenson.

The British marine insurance rate almost instantly was cut in half, for never since the days of the Alabama has there been such a successful commerce destroyer as the Emden. Cheers broke forth at Lloyd's on the announcement, and for the moment the struggles of the armies in France, Belgium, Russia and elsewhere were forgotten.

Yet all these armies were at each other's throats—the Germans and Russians clashing in cavalry engagements along the German frontier, the Russians still harassing the Austrians in Galicia, and the French, British and Belgians uniting to hold back what appears to be a tremendous German attempt to break through the allied lines in the vicinity of Ypres.

Many dispatches speak of the movement of German troops eastward from Belgium as indicating the need of reinforcements along the eastern frontier, but neither the French nor German official statements indicated any slackening in the violence of German attacks in West Flanders. In fact, the French statement says that between the sea and Arras the opposing forces were both acting on the offensive.

As to the outcome of this double offensive the rival contentions are contradictory, the Germans claiming slow progress near Ypres and the French asserting that the German attack was beaten back. In view of what seems to be a sustained and concerted German effort in this region, the reports of the German retirement are hardly borne out, although it is said they have moved their headquarters still further east, this time from Ghent to Alost.

The situation along the battle line in France proper, from the standpoint of the allies, was summed up in a dispatch from an "observer with the Indian corps," who says, there has been no marked change anywhere, though he professes to see a gradual weakening of German attacks.

Aside from the military aspects of the war, what stood out boldest was Germany's reported threat to cut off food the United States is sending to Belgium, if the Belgians did not return to their cities and make an effort to resume their normal occupations. The Belgian answer is that it has been impossible to resume assemblage of normal activity because the German soldiery has commandeered all implements and materials necessary to an industrial revival.

The British government issued another so-called white paper, reviewing the incidents which preceded the declaration of war against Turkey. It deals in the main with the Goeben and Breslau affair, and sets forth that the grand vizier all along was at least ostensibly against dragging Turkey into the conflict, but either was powerless to resist Enver Bey and his associates, or while outwardly opposing them, was winking at the fast approaching crisis, while the Turkish and German preparations went forward.

CHANCE TO GET STOVE FREE

A Demonstration of Combined Range at Waller & Trice Co's. Begins To-day.

In order to introduce a new combined coal and gas stove, the Waller & Trice Company will give a cooking demonstration at their store today, Friday and Saturday. Incidentally they will give away absolutely free, one of the full size kitchen ranges fitted to use either gas or coal or both at one time. A numbered ticket will be given to every grown person who applies for it and the one holding the corresponding number to the one drawn at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon will be made a present of the stove. There are no strings tied to this offer and no purchase is necessary to get the ticket.

This stove is made by the Art Stove company, of Detroit, and the demonstration here will be conducted by Jack Murphy, an experienced man in this work. The demonstration will be carried on right in the big show window of the store and during the three days coffee and biscuit will be served to those who call.

Much is claimed for this new combined stove and it is to get it prominently before the people that this form of introduction has been decided upon. The manufacturers say it is really two stoves in one, thereby meaning big saving in price, making it more convenient and less trouble

BEAUTIFUL WEDDING

Miss Katherine Long Becomes Bride of Mr. Pettus White At Christian Church.

GONE ON SOUTHERN TRIP.

Many Out-of-town Guests Were Present On The Happy Occasion.

Beautifully and impressively, the ceremony that linked the destinies of Mr. S. Pettus White and Miss Katherine Long, was performed at the First Christian church yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock, Rev. H. D. Smith officiating.

The spacious auditorium was filled with the friends of the happy young couple, many from out of town.

The ushers were Messrs Henry T. Stites, Geo. W. Lackey, Ira D. Smith and Manning Brown. Mrs. H. H. Perkins sang "Beauty's Eyes" and Mrs. Clayton Dagg Richards rendered Lohengrin's wedding march as the bridal party entered and Mendelssohn's as they retired from the church. Soft music was played during the ceremony.

The ushers entered in pairs, Messrs Stites and Lackey by one aisle and Messrs Smith and Brown by the other and took their places on either side of the pulpit.

Miss Elizabeth Grinter, of Cadiz, maid of honor, preceded the bridal couple, bearing a huge bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. Little Miss Elizabeth Tandy, as flower girl, came next carrying a basket filled with chrysanthemums.

The bride and groom entered together by the left aisle and ascended the steps to the pulpit, where they were met by Rev. H. D. Smith and Mr. Pollard White, the best man. The beautiful ring ceremony was used, the groom repeating the pledge "With this ring I thee wed and with all my worldly goods I thee endow." The ceremony was brief and appropriate and concluded with a short prayer.

The bride was clad in a blue traveling suit of broadcloth, the groom in a dark suit. The bride's shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums was passed to the maid of honor during the ring ceremony, and returned at the conclusion. Mr. and Mrs. White were driven at once to the Louisville & Nashville depot and left on the Dixie Flyer for a southern bridal trip.

The groom is a young attorney of unusual promise, highly educated in his profession, possessing ability of a high order, and is a gifted vocal musician. He is a son of the late John F. White, of Cadiz, and is a nephew of Judge J. T. Hanbery.

The lovely bride is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. C. Long, and one of Hopkinsville's most charming girls. She possesses beauty, brightness and a most lovable character. Like her husband, she is an accomplished musician.

Among the guests from out of town were the following:

Mrs. Cordie White, the groom's mother; Mr. Pollard White, his brother, and Mrs. White; Mr. and Mrs. Ben White, Mrs. Susie Bell Dunn, Mrs. Clarence Grinter, and Misses Mary and Elizabeth Grinter; all of Cadiz; Mrs. Fred Hawkins, the groom's sister, of Richmond, Va., and Mrs. Jno. T. Savage, the groom's aunt, of St. Louis, Mo.

KENTUCKY IS QUARANTINED

The Foot and Mouth Disease Of Cattle Has Invaded The State.

SYMPTOMS OF THE DISEASE.

Mortality Is Low But Its Contagious Character Makes It Much Dreaded.

Three cases of foot and mouth disease were found at Shepherdsville Monday by Dr. William Smith and Dr. Bond, federal inspectors. The infected cattle were shipped from the Chicago stock yards to the Bourbon stock yards, at Louisville. This is the first appearance of the disease in Kentucky. Bullitt county will be quarantined immediately.

J. W. Newman, secretary of agriculture, immediately ordered Bullitt county quarantined against all shipments of cattle and ordered the Bourbon stock yards quarantined against all shipments except for immediate slaughter.

The federal government on Tuesday added Kentucky to the list of quarantined States.

Agricultural Agent W. C. Richardson in conversation with the Kentuckian representative, said the utmost caution will have to be used to avoid the spreading of the disease. It is spread by contact of the germs and the first thing to do, is to keep cattle of all kinds at home. Keep them away from all sources of infection and prompt and vigorous action will soon eradicate the disease in Kentucky. As yet it is nearly 200 miles from Hopkinsville and there is no cause for alarm.

It is well, though, for the people to inform themselves about the disease, as it may have to be dealt with.

This disease is an acute, highly contagious fever of a specific nature, characterized by the eruption of vesicles, or blisters, in the mouth, around the coronets of the feet, and between the toes.

Its ravages are not confined to cattle. Hogs, sheep, goats, horses, dogs, cats and even poultry being liable to attack. The disease prevails in European countries and causes great losses. The actual mortality is low, but serious losses result from the loss of milk and flesh in animals. Its every appearance in America has been quickly suppressed. The government has taken hold of it this time with great energy and quarantines have been established in fourteen States.

The disease is first indicated by the animal suffering from a chill, quickly followed by fever, which may rise to 106 degrees. In one or two days small vesicles about the size of peas, appear upon the mucous membranes of the mouth at the border and upper surface of the tongue near the tip, inside of the cheeks, on the gums and the inner surface of the lips, or on the margin of the dental pad. These contain a yellowish watery fluid and gradually become more extensive as the disease advances. Soon after the eruptions have appeared in the mouth, it will be noticed that there is a considerable redness, swelling and tenderness manifested about the feet. Eruptions similar to those in the mouth appear a day or two later. On milk cows the udders show the same vesicles, which may turn to deep obstinate fissures. The disease may run its course in 10 to 20 days or it may take several months for the animal to entirely recover. The mortality seldom exceeds 1 to 5 per cent, except to calves fed on infected milk. Of these 60 to 80 per cent die.

Guy Barnett, innkeeper of the jewelry department of the Forbes Manufacturing Co., is a Hopkinsville boy, who is only 24 years old, but who is making good by rapid strides. He is a son of former Councilman N. A. Barnett and was educated in the city schools and took up the trade of a jeweler in the store of J. H. Skarry about seven years ago. He remained with him for 4½ years, becoming in that time a practical jeweler of rare skill for one of his age. He then went to the Horological Institute at Peoria, Ill., and completed the prescribed course in six months, graduating with high honors. His previous experience stood him well in hand and he did the work of two years in a few months. He also completed a course in hand engraving and brought home some samples of the work he did in the institute. He is now making a specialty of engravings in every style, including fine monograms and scroll work. A recent specimen of his work, now on display at the store, is the inscription on the handsome sterling silver loving cup awarded by the Pennyroyal Fair Association to Holland Garnett, as the champion wheat grower of Christian county.

Returning to Hopkinsville with his new honors, he resumed his old place, but soon received a flattering offer to take charge of the Forbes store. Though his age was against him, he was capable, industrious, faithful and honest and he set himself to his task with an energy that at once brought results. From the very start, the volume of business increased and at the end of a year it had been increased 25 per cent and he was given a voluntary increase of salary.

Mr. Barnett has made himself invaluable to the company and is still demonstrating his fine business and ability and through fitness for the place he holds.

Price of a Kid.
Cordova is full of fun, says Mr. C. Bogue Luffmann in his "Quiet Days in Spain," and in the leisurely pace of the life there the observer has time to see and appreciate all of it. In the market one day a small boy with a big pron and a pouting manner was offering half of a small kid to a woman for a peseta. She objected that it was very tiny, and he fairly smothered her with, "Woman! Do you want half a bull for a tenpence?"

DEMOCRATS APPRECIATE WORK OF CAMPAIGN CHAIRMAN RHEA

HON. THOMAS S. RHEA

In the placing of credit for the splendid Democratic victory in Kentucky on Tuesday, the major portion is being handed to Thomas S. Rhea, of Logan county, State Treasurer who led the fight for Beckham and Camden as Chairman of the Democratic State Campaign Committee. It was an old time Democratic victory, probably the greatest in Kentucky in thirty years, the majority going above anything given the party in that long time, and Mr. Rhea was the recipient of hundreds of telegrams complimenting him on his leadership and campaign management for the party.

It is conceded that the overwhelming result was largely due to organization, in getting the people aroused and to the polls to vote. Chairman Rhea has long been known down in the Third Congressional district as a campaigner, but this was his first experience covering so much territory. He brought the methods of organization which made him so successful in county and district politics into the state fight. He devoted every energy to the work, selecting his own campaign committee and all of his assistants and personally directing every move that was made. Not content with running one special train through Kentucky bearing a national character, Mr. Rhea, as the star speaker, he conducted another on a more extensive scale, which carried only Kentuckians as speakers and campaigners. This proved more successful than the first and did much to arouse the voters to the necessity for turning out on the day of election. County and precinct campaign committees were everywhere named early in the contest, and were kept in touch with the State organization and its speakers' bureau to the end that every section of Kentucky had its Democratic speakers urging upon the people the necessity for going to the polls and voting to uphold President Wilson and his peace policies for the American people.

The one feature of Chairman Rhea's campaign which particularly stands out in the political battle just won was in his handling of the political situation in the city of Louisville and the Fifth Congressional district. Confronted when he undertook to make the party campaign with the fact that the head of the ticket had lost Louisville in the primary last August, and coming out of that city in the election of Tuesday with over twelve thousand majority for that nominee, Democratic hats are off to their chairman. Further, he had to deal with the fact that Louisville had had the habit for several years past of only weakly supporting Democratic candidates and very often giving a majority against them at the polls. Out of all of this he brought a result that far surpassed the expectations of those who were associated with him in the fight, the largest Democratic majority the Fifth district has given in over a quarter of a century.

The same clever methods that brought this about in Louisville served as well in pretty nearly every section of the state in the election of Tuesday. Every Congressional district worked harmoniously with the State Chairman, and in every one of them the vote was nearly such as it would have been with local races on in the counties.

That the victory just achieved paves the way for Democratic success in the State election of next year is the opinion of the party leaders and every one conversant with political affairs in Kentucky. It demonstrates, they say, that the party is harmonious and united.

A GREAT DAY

In The Rural Schools of Christian.

Superintendent, L. E. Foster, states that last Saturday was one of the greatest days that he has witnessed in the matter of the upbuilding of Rural Schools.

Two associations were held, one at Pembroke, comprising the Educational Division seven and eight, meeting at the Pembroke Graded School, and division number three, meeting at Haddock's school house north of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster, accompanied by Mrs. Danforth, attended the Pembroke Association in the forenoon and by means of a car were able to reach Haddock's school for the afternoon.

The programs at both places were generally conceded to be the best ever rendered at any Association in the County, and were the best attended. Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Danforth gave delightful musical selections, a play, and the County Superintendent spoke on Relative Importance of Manual Work and Reason Work in the school room at the Pembroke Association and on Manual Education as a Basis for Making the child a citizen in the grades at the Haddock School. It is the regret of the Superintendent that all of the teachers in the County could not attend these two meetings and have the most excellent programs, for they were a great impetus to the school work in the County.

There are just two other Associations to be held this year, one at Consolation on Friday, Nov. 13, and one at Lafayette on Saturday, Nov. 21. It is rather expected that these two sections of the county will attempt to surpass all of the other Associations held up to the present time, because they represent a section of the county where the most excellent grade of work is done and a great deal of interest is taken in school work.

Are You A Woman?

Baltimore, Md.—Mrs. W. H. Ison, at 1419 East Madison street, writes: "For several years, I suffered, off and on, from female troubles, until finally I was taken down and could do nothing. The pains I experienced, I shall never forget. I lost weight till I was only skin and bones. I believe I would have been in my grave, if I had not tried Cardui. I shall praise it as long as I live." Many women, like Mrs. Ison, are weak and discouraged, on account of some painful ailment. Are you one of these sufferers? Cardui will help you. Try it today. Any druggist.—Advertisement.

Rats Great Disease Carriers.

Three different animals are plague carriers—the tarbagou or marmot (a rodent) of the trans-Balkal region, roughly embracing great sections of Siberia; the ground squirrel of California; the wild rat of Africa. The greatest mischief is done by rats that get into ships and then go ashore at the ports of call. The rats are bitten by fleas and the fleas in turn bite man. Rats also are carriers of leprosy, and it is thought that they may fall victims of cancer, both of which they can transmit to man.

It Really Does Relieve

Rheumatism.

Everybody who is afflicted with Rheumatism in any form should by all means keep a bottle of Sloan's Liniment on hand. The minute you feel pain or soreness in a joint or muscle, bathe it with Sloan's Liniment. Do not rub it. Sloan's penetrates almost immediately right to the seat of pain, relieving the hot, tender, swollen feeling and making the part easy and comfortable. Get a bottle of Sloan's Liniment for 25 cents of any druggist and have it in the house—against colds, sore and swollen joints, rheumatism, neuralgia, sciatic and like ailments. Your money back if not satisfied, but it does give almost instant relief.—Advertisement.

Your druggist will refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure any case of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Protruding Piles in 6 to 14 days. The first application gives Ease and Rest. 50c

Luke McLuke Says.

The difference between man and woman is that man would rather be well than look well and woman would rather look well than be well.

A single man imagines that it is easy to fool a woman. But later on he learns that the only time he ever fooled his wife was when he married her.

Every man knows that if he had a million dollars he would give $100,000 of it to charity. But he never thinks of kicking in with a dime out of the $10 bill he has in his pocket.

It is hard for a pretty girl to be nice to a married man in public. She knows what she would do if she were married and caught a pretty girl being nice to her husband.

It is funny that you seldom discover any of the dead ones buried in the ground.

Any old time you see a man eating with his knife you can bet that he is boss in his house and that what he says goes.

You can't sometimes always tell from where you sit, I know a man miliner who is a big coarse brute and who chews tobacco.

When a man gets his first full dress suit he has a awful battle with himself to keep from wearing it down town in the daytime so people can see it.

The old-fashioned woman who used to drink it because it was labeled patent medicine now has a daughter who likes it mixed with a cordial with a cherry in the bottom as a chaser.

It takes the headless pup too long for the good old days. But the old men remember those days as a time when you got up at 4 o'clock on a cold morning and lit a candle so you could put lard on your boots to soften them and then kicked the toes against the dog irons in front of the fireplace until you scraped all the hide off your ankles getting the boots on.

The average husband thinks that if he takes his wife to a theater once a month she ought to crawl around on her hands and knees before him and kowtow every time she sees him.

A man is so ornery that he is real proud when he discovers that he can't quit smoking.

An orator is a lad who will say: "Needless to say," and then takes a half hour saying it.

As a useless conversation incubator, the weather has everything else backed off the boards.

In spite of the fact that divorces are easy to get in this country, it is hard to get a jury to punish a woman who shoots her friend husband.

If the man next door goes to church with his wife every Sunday, all the married heathens in the neighborhood learn from their wives what a fine man the man next door is.

After a man hooks up with a woman he is expected to keep on hooking up.

When a corn-fed girl gets into one of those heavy new coats she looks as though she had stolen two bales of cotton and was trying to sneak them home.

To get the genuine, call for full name, LAXATIVE-BROMO QUININE. Look for signature of E. W. GROVE. Cures a Cold in One Day, Stops cough and headache, and works off cold. 25c.

Making Love to Garden Roller.

It was a British income tax collector who said that the defect of his occupation was that it gave you a low opinion of the honesty of mankind. So, writes a correspondent, the possession of a new garden roller has given an acquaintance of mine a cynical view of humanity. As I stood by him in his garden I noticed the number of persons who greeted him as they passed. "Lot of friends you have round here," I said. "Lot of people want my roller," he replied. "It's enough to make a man sick to hear the way people come and compliment me on my garden and then work round to a request for the loan of my roller." I suppressed a compliment regarding his violas, adds the correspondent, lest he should suspect that I also was on the roller hunt.

Associated Charities.

The Associated Charities, according to Mrs. Lillian Gillock, the faithful and efficient agent, is in need of funds. Winter is approaching and the demands of this organization will be greatly increased. It is doing a work in Hopkinsville and elsewhere that no other organization is capable of performing and that no individual except those in close touch with its operation can comprehend.

The man who contributes to the beggar on the street has no assurance that he is being imposed on. The man who extends charity through Associated Charities may feel confident that his donation will go to some worthy person and will be used for the greatest possible good.

The real sufferers from cold and hunger and sickness are not the brazen beggars that one meets on the streets. Too frequently the man who begs a quarter of a stranger imagines he is suffering for a drink, and statistics show that whatever is given thoughtlessly and indiscriminately is more often squandered than applied to a useful purpose.

The Associated Charities seek out the abandoned homes and little children who languish for lack of nourishment. Some complain that it has too much "red tape," but one should not overlook the fact that a case that will not bear a close security is hardly worthy of charity and, besides, to give to an unworthy cause means that some worthy object must be deprived.

The Associated Charities never has funds sufficient to care for all worthy demands that are made on it, but it fortunately knows how to stretch the dollar to the limit. Those who give to the poor through it, unless they know personally of some needy case, may be assured that they are employing the best vehicle for service. You can give not only in money, but in cast off garments that will be just what some poor person is in need of. This is going to be a hard winter on the poor and only the liberal charity of the more fortunate can prevent much suffering among the destitute.

Fourteen States Quarantined.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Fourteen states now are under federal quarantine because of foot and mouth disease. Kentucky was added to the list reports of infection in the state coming with news of further spread of the epidemic in Indiana, Ohio and Michigan.

Extension of the infected district surprised and somewhat discouraged officials of the department of agriculture. Nevertheless the hope was confidently reiterated that there would be no further spread. The only state under suspicion is Mississippi, where a strange malady in a herd of cattle of Como is being investigated.

Another wonderful Laurel invention has been made and every woman ought to see it.

Most women will go into raptures over it because it positively ENDS ALL FUEL WORRIES.

You know you almost lost your temper many times last winter when the gas almost went out just as you were cooking dinner (and we did the same) yet, you wouldn't want to burn coal in the hot weather and suffer in a hot kitchen, would you? Well then—come and see what we have to show you at—

Our "Laurel" Demonstration

WHICH WILL BE HELD
 Thursday, Friday, Saturday, Nov. 12, 13, 14

Let Us Show You The New "Laurel"

Combination Coal and Gas Range

You'll have a good time—we'll make things pleasant for you.

We'll Serve You Coffee and Biscuits

while you listen to Mr. Jack Murphrey, a representative of the Art Stove Co., Detroit, explain this wonderful invention.

It will Burn Coal or Gas at the Same Time or Separately.

If your gas pressure is low, start the fire—no changes are necessary—just ignite the coal—that's all.

It has eight-hole top, four coal and four gas covers, all can be used at once.

If you desire to burn coal or wood, only a small cover slips over gas burner in oven bottom, as pictured here.

When coal and gas is used at the same time, the small cover over the burner is removed and the battle plate shown here is set in oven bottom, prongs downward.

Sold in Hopkinsville Only By The Waller & Trice Co., Incorporated, The Licensed Laurel Agents.

The wonderful fuel saving twin flue "LAUREL" ranges, for coal or wood only, and the new "Laurel Cabinet Gas Range" will also be shown in this grand demonstration. ### ALL THINGS SAFE THAT NIGHT

Reason Why There Was Nothing Extraordinary About Man Recovering His Lost Watch.

When the snow fell thickest on the first night of a storm last winter a Staten Island man got off the ferryboat at St. George and pulled out his gold watch to note the time, relates the New York Press. It fell from his hand into a pile of snow. He searched for it, of course, but as the wind was blowing a hurricane and he was numbed through he made up his mind he would have to let it go. So he reluctantly trudged up the street.

The next day when he went down to the ferry the storm had abated somewhat and as he neared the particular pile of snow where he had dropped the watch he determined to have another look. So he went to it. There was no mile a minute wind and no sleet in his face and his body was warm after a good solid breakfast.

He rummaged around for ten minutes or more and at last, to his great joy, he saw the watch, somewhat dirty, but still in a first rate state of preservation. He was so overjoyed that he had to tell his luck to a policeman who had been watching his search curiously.

"Oh, is that what it was?" said the bluecoat. "And you're surprised? Well, you needn't be. Can you name a man in the whole world who would have bothered looking for a watch lost in snow? Why, anything you placed in snow would have been safe. I know men who didn't go home at all last night and they blamed it on the snow. And they didn't lose a smirch of their reputation. You couldn't lose anything last night."

MIRROR FOR DAINTY WOMAN

May Be Held in the Mouth, Leaving Both Hands Free to Arrange the Back Hair.

At last a woman may have both hands free to arrange her back hair as she looks in a mirror. This is made possible now by the invention of a mirror which can be held in the mouth, thus reflecting the back of the head from the main mirror of the dressing table.

It is the invention of a Frenchman. Who has given so much thought to the elegance of woman's toilet as the French?

This new mirror is broad, so as to give a good general view sideways, and being fixed on a curved bar, stands well out from the face, so that there is no strain on the eyes.

At the bottom of the curved bar is the "bite," not too large for dainty mouths and covered with hating, so as to be easily held without harming the teeth.

Even the hygienic side of the use of this mirror has been considered, for a number of thick envelopes just fitting over the "bite" come with the mirror, so that you may lend it to your friend and neither she nor you fear any contagion.

Too Much Realism.

One of the most successful productions at the "Old Vic" was a play—written without Dickens' permission—round "Oliver Twist," and banned by the lord chamberlain owing to the realistic way in which Bill Sikes murdered Nancy. His lordship's jurisdiction did not extend to what were then called the "minor theaters," so the play was for many years a standing dish at the "Vic" and thrilled the galleries with fierce emotions, no matter how many times they had seen it. "Nancy was always dragged round the stage by her hair," writes John Hollingshead, "and after this effort, Sikes always looked up defiantly at the gallery. He was always answered by one loud and fearful curse, yelled by the whole mass like a Handel festival chorus. When Sikes seemed to dash Nancy's brains out on the stage a thousand outraged voices, which sounded like ten thousand, filled the theater and deafened the audience below."—London Chronicle.

Strange Extravagance.

A witicism of James Hazen Hyde's is going the rounds of Pallard's, the Ritz, Armonville, and other fashionable resorts of Paris.

A rich young Englishman, George Mitchell, paid, as everybody knows, a large sum for the privilege of being knocked out by Carpentier, the French champion.

Mr. Hazen Hyde, who attended the combat, said, as the battered Briton took the count:

"Here's a fine young fellow comes to Paris and pays $2,000 to have his face smashed by a boxer, when, for a hundredth part of the money, he could have it kissed by the prettiest girl at Maxim's."

Rats at School.

The managers of the West Hill infant schools at Epsom, England, are wrestling, but so far in vain, with a colony of rats. Rat-catchers have spent nights in the building waging war upon them, but they are still numerous. According to the schoolmistress, they peer out of the holes all round the room when the piano is played, and then come out and scamper about until the music stops. The children have grown so used to them that their appearance does not worry them.

Climbing.

"You folk are being taken up by society, aren't you?"
"Well, we don't believe in bragging, but we know three ladies who make a habit of it."

AMONG MAN'S WORST FOES

Nebraska a Battlefield Where Enormous Wealth is Annually Destroyed.

One of the most fascinating exhibits in the University building at the fair is the collection of glass cases containing the more common and destructive insect enemies of the Nebraska farmer, exhibited in their historic development from the egg to the worm and on to the moth or beetle. This series, the Nebraska State Journal says, is the work of Prof. Myron Swenk of the agricultural college. Looking at this panorama of obscure life, costing the people of Nebraska every year millions of dollars which no statistician dare compute, one realizes that man's greatest enemies are the most minute. The fight is no longer with the tiger or wolf or serpent or panther. The mites and midges, the slugs and entomies, the aphids and corn-root lice threaten man's food supply, the bacilli threaten his very life. Here is a battle field where the question of man's existence upon this planet must be fought. For this militia service Nebraska needs every man and woman, boy and girl, between the ages of five and ninety-five, and for the line, staff and officers the best and brightest intellects our prairies can produce.

DON'T GET THOSE RATES

Corn Raisers Would Be Happy If Able to Command Prices Charged by Lobster Palaces.

"If the farmers in this country who raise corn," remarked a speculator business man from Warren street, "could open lobster palaces in Broadway and supply their own places with it there would be a new set of millionaires around town before a great while. I judge so from eating an ear of new corn in one of those joints the other night that a friend of mine was paying for."

"The price of it was 35 cents, and I should say it weighed considerably less than half a pound, but call it that. Now, there are 56 pounds of corn to the bushel and we raise about 3,000,000,000 bushels annually. Calculating half a pound of corn to the ear, we have 112 ears to the bushel, which, multiplied by 3,000,000,000, gives 336,000,000,000 ears, which at 35 cents an ear amounts to $117,600,000,000 for the farmers' pockets annually."

"Some money, ain't it? Just the same that's what they'd have out of their corn crops if they got lobster-palace rates."—Philadelphia Ledger

PERPETUAL LEADERSHIP.

"I hear that your wife is an authority on the subject of votes for women."

"Sir," replied Mr. Meekton, "while it may please her to change the topic from time to time my wife is always an authority."

THE BUSINESS PROCEEDING.

"Why do you persist in biting us men so?" asked the human being of the mosquito.

"Because," answered the mosquito, "the world owes me a living, and, naturally, I send in my bill."

CASTING ASPERSIONS.

Mr. Pester—You seem more proud of that dog than you are of your children.

Mrs. Pester—Why not? Fifi is eugenical.—Puck.

RARE PERFORMER.

"Miss Heftun seems to be an accomplished musician."

"She is indeed. When that girl starts to playing something dreamy on the piano I forget that she weighs 200 pounds."

AN IMPOSSIBLE TASK.

First Student (in a burst of admiration)—Professor Gabby is a wonder as a linguist. What tongue hasn't he mastered?

Associate Professor (dryly)—His wife's.

HIS EXCUSE.

"This is a pretty time of night for you to be coming home, Jeremiah."

"I know, my dear, but I hadn't anywhere else to go."

THE RETURNED TOURIST.

"What were the most beautiful things you saw in Europe?"

"A ham sandwich and a steamboat ticket."

YOU HAVE BUT ONE MOTHER TO LOSE

Her face may be wrinkled and faded;

Her cheeks may be sunken and wan;

Her eyes may be dim as the gloaming,

That once were as bright as the dawn;

But smooth ye the locks that are faded,

And make but little excuse;

You never can pay back her kindness—

Or, if she's still glad some and bonnie,

With roses of youth on her lips;

And looks just as bright as the lassies,

That nettle to get you in grips;

Oh, stand like a man by your mother,

And tenderness never refuse;

Remember, there's plenty of lassies—

But only one mother to lose.—

Hearth and Home.

Motorcycle as Chaff Cutter.

A farmer at Bantall, Salop, England, has fixed his motorcycle on a stand against the wall of the farm buildings, and it drives a chaff-cutter and turnip cutter at the same time. It does not cost much to work it. The turnip cutter is on the same level as the cycle, and is connected by a kind of bicycle chain. The chaff-cutter is placed above the turnip-cutter on another floor and connected by two-inch belting. After it has been on some little time the engine gets hot, so a fan is made to revolve by the side to keep it cool. It is also used for churning milk. This saves a great deal of time for the workmen because it can do the two jobs at once.

Pennyroyal Roof Garden.

The roof garden of the Pennyroyal apartment affords a magnificent view of the landscape of Hopkinsville in all directions. To the west the view extends several miles. To the east the high hills limit the vision to the eastern suburbs. North and south the view extends far into the country. The monuments in Riverside can be plainly seen. The view is one that gives the observer an enlarged idea of Hopkinsville's wonderful growth.

FURTHER TIME

Is Given Employers to Report By Workmen's Compensation Board.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 11.—The State Compensation Board issued an order giving employers until December 5 to file an affidavit setting forth their pay roll from July 1 to December 2. The law required them to report the payrolls as of June, but in Eastern Kentucky, especially, in many instances, payrolls have been reduced since June and as the compensation funds are based on the pay rolls, the board decided in justice to employers to amend their report in this manner.

The Rex

Today the REX theater presents the great comedy-drama by Essanay, "The Good For Nothing" featuring G. M. Anderson, of Broncho Billy fame. The picture, which is claimed to be Essanay's masterpiece, has the following cast:

G. M. Anderson, Lee Willard, Elsa Lorimer, Carl Stockdale, Evelyn Selbie and Victor Potel.

The play is highly dramatic and should have a strong drawing power. Tomorrow Mgr. Shrode presents the first of the Famous Player five and ten cent productions. The showing of these pictures at this price was made possible only from the fact that the REX has contracted for the entire output of the Paramount service.

The play tomorrow is "The Scales of Justice," featuring Paul McAllister the well known legitimate star and Jane Fernley. Saturday the six part production of Geo. Kleine's "Between Savage and Tiger" will be shown and from all accounts this picture will leap far ahead of anything in the animal line ever made into a moving picture. So thrilling are the scenes at times that it hardly seems possible that the men taking the pictures could have escaped with his life.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY

May Be Called To Probe Night Rider Attacks.

Bowling Green, Ky., Nov. 11.—Action of alleged "night riders" who have been operating in Butler county were reported today to Judge Moss, by Abe Bradley, road engineer of Butler county, and a lengthy conference was held to see if some means could not be found to check the marauders. Judge Moss is considering the calling of an extra term of court, it is said, in order that a grand jury probe of the entire matter may be undertaken. The operations in Butler county, so far, are said to have resulted in six whippings, and two of the "night riders" are believed to have been wounded in an attack on one man's house.
